Recruitment Invitation

Do you provide services to adults with grief issues? Please consider enrolling in a research study. You will answer a brief questionnaire then take one survey.

I am a student in the Doctor of Social Work (DSW) program at the University of Tennessee-Knoxville. I am currently undertaking a research on “Grief Education, Training, Treatment Utilization, and Clinical Readiness Among Independent Licensed Clinical Social Workers.”

The goal of this comprehensive study is to analyze the current state of grief therapy competency among independent licensed clinical social workers. No personally identifiable information will be collected, and all information will be kept confidential and used solely for academic purposes.

The results of this study are expected to help promote increased access to grief therapy education, training, and skill-building opportunities.

If you have questions at any time about the study or the procedures, you may contact the researcher, Amy Jo Payne, LCSW at aphill77@vols.utk.edu and (859) 361-2022.

This research study is approved by the University of Tennessee, Knoxville: IRB #20-05974-XM.
